PESTS.
It is easy enough to be pleasant.
To the player team in the rear.
But it's hard to be so.

When a runner behind
Hugs jetties like mad in your ear.

By WILLIAM PEEK.

It would not be at all surprising if Tommy Long, who journeyed in for out of a short period two years ago, was seen in a Washington uniform before the present season comes to a close.

Long is at present performing in the southern league, and hitting like a house afire.

It will be remembered that Scott Kahoe dug up Long two years ago, and that the youngster trained with the Nationals in Charlottesville during the spring of 1912. Because he looked to have a weak throwing arm, Griff sold him to the Mobile club under the operational agreement, and recalled him at the close of the season, turning him over to Atlanta.

It was learned last night that Scott Kahoe would shortly take a trip down south for the purpose of looking over several players, and that he expects to see Long in action. If Kahoe reports favorably Griff may buy the outfielder to execute his vision from the Crackers, although it is not at all likely that Long could be obtained before the season closes, as Atlanta has a fine chance to win the pennant.

That Bill Morley, the infielder sold to the Hartford club, of the Eastern Association, under the optional agreement plan will be recalled by Manager Griffith is now almost an assured fact.

Morley is playing good ball, hitting well over .300, and putting up a sensational fielding game. It is believed that next year Morley will be carried by the Nationals as George McBride's understudy.

Now that the New York Highlanders have broken the ice and won a ball game in their home city better things are expected for Frank Chance will eventually be sent into a reserve team, but it will take considerable time, and he is not expected to see the present season will be one made up of many experiments.

After his interest in the American League game this week will center in the series in Philadelphia between the Athletics and the Cleveland Naps. These two teams are making a pretty race for first place, and the game between themselves will be a pretty good one.

CHICAGO WINS IN THE TENTH

Chicago, June 8.—The Cubs won from their old-time foe, the Giants, in a desperately fought ten-inning battle this afternoon, 2 to 1. The winning run came when Archer doubled, and Miller, running for him, went to third on Smith's single, and scored when Evers hit to Merkle, whose throw to the plate came an instant too late to cut off the deciding tally.

Both pitchers were very effective, Tesreau three striking out the hard-hitting Zimmerman. The Giants should have won in the end, but Doyle, after singling, allowed himself to be caught off first, and thus three hits in this inning, including a double and a triple, netted but one run. Score:
